

ISO Standards

- International Organization for Standardization (ISO)- mission is to promote the development of standardized products to facilitate trade and cooperation across national borders.
- Representatives from more than 146 nations.
-  ISO 9000 series of standards sets requirements for quality processes.
- Nearly half a million ISO 9000 certificates have been awarded to companies around the world.
- ISO 14000 series also sets standards for operations that minimize harm to the environment.